Remarks :

Sir's teaching is just awesome. It completely changed my view of the subject "Probability and random variables". I studied the subjects 3 times before this but never i have enjoyed the beauty of the subject as now. All thanks to Dr. Karthik P N sir, who also inspired me and resolved my doubt of wether pursuing a PhD. I would also love to do a project under sir if its possible .

Sir i love mathematics very much and after i took this course ,i got to know that the probability i studied till now is just a bunch of nonsensical formula mugging up. My father did M.Sc mathematics and teaches mathematics for students of classes 11 and 12 (He is the one who taught me probability before undergrad). I had shared some of your lectures with him to understand the level difference. He found it very interesting and appreciated you for the hardwork you put to make students understand this course. We discuss some topics from class after he recollects studying them during his M.Sc (Personal Remark: No day goes by without talking to my mother about how good I feel ,after completion of probability class on that day). After every class I come out with complete satisfaction of understanding another new topic, with my expression screaming the words "When it clicks, it clicks". Thank you sir once again for being the course instructor for this course.

Appreciate the efforts of the faculty to explain the concept from abstract to application. with detailings.
 Also, providing the recorded lectures and notes slides helped a lot to revisit the concept if something was missed in the class.
 Also appreciate the regular TA sessions and their effort for doubt clearing and practice sessions.

Sir, your teaching has been very impressive. I had a great learning experience and had gained exposure to the concepts which I had not known before. But, I would strongly suggest that you slow down further and simplify your explanation to cater to the educational needs of slow learners too. Not all the students grasp the concepts at the same pace. Thank you.

It was complete joy to sit in the class of this course and see Karthik sir unravel the world of probability concept by concept. He definitely has a flair for teaching and eagerness to impart the knowledge into the students. The design of slides, homework, quizzes and midterms are all aligned, almost perfectly, to improve the understanding of probability. I sincerely thank Dr. Karthik for the efforts undertaken and I am happy to learn the subject under the best. He has a flair for teaching and students definitely rejoice sitting in his classes. The openness he encourages in the class is also vital in students expressing their ideas freely further enhancing the understanding of the subject.

Special thanks to all the TAs who supported the course.
